WOOING HIS WIFE.

Although Farmer Tucker had long dreamed of a visit to Chatauqua, when he found himself at the Mecca of devout excursionists, the brawny man was tempted to doubt his own identity. The holiday surroundings were wholly unlike anything to which he was accustomed in his prosy New England home; the rich, crowded program offered was in striking contrast to the dull monotony of farm life. When this son of toil first entered the auditorium, and saw the rustic amphitheatre crowded with thousands of people listening breathlessly to the full, sweet tone of the grand organ, his cramped selfish heart was strangely touched and expanded. For an instant the wish crept in that he had asked Jane if she would like to come, too. But there was not much time for his own thoughts, for as the music ceased, a white-haired gentleman arose and announced the name of an orator who is well known from Maine to California.

"Well, now, it beats all to think I'm going to hear the man I've wanted to hear for mor'n twenty years," Farmer Tucker whispered to himself. The lecturer commenced his brief address with one of his inimitable descriptions. The story was of a man who applied for a divorce, and was advised by his eminent lawyer to try the effect of making love to his wife as he had done before marrying her, instead of resorting to the measures he had proposed. It included also an account of a late visit when the happy husband withdrew his application, and, fairly dancing with glee, assured the lawyer that his experiment had worked like a charm. "Sally had become an amiable and affectionate wife as a man could ask to have." His representation of the scene drew forth long applause, but Samuel Tucker's interest was of too serious a nature to permit his joining in the laughter. As if unconscious for a moment of the multitude about him, he said, in an undertone: "I'd be willing to take my oath that wouldn't work with Jane. All I have to say is, that man's wife was different from mine; I'd as soon think of feeding serrep to a mummy as to begin sparking again with her."

At length he quieted his conscience with the determination to prove that his estimate of his wife was correct. "When I go home," he said to himself, I'll just show the woman some little attentions, and I'll see they won't have anymore effect on her than they would on the old bay mare. Jane's bound to be sullen and obstinate, and I suppose I may as well make up my mind to it."

On reaching home the resolution was not easily carried out. When Mr. Tucker planned some gallantry toward his wife the very thought made him feel so unnatural and foolish that postponement resulted, but the Sabbath offered an opportunity so convenient that he improved it.

The farm was nearly a mile from church, yet Samuel Tucker had for years been in the habit of driving home alone, leaving his wife to attend the Sunday school and then walk home as best she could through mud or dust. Great was Mrs. Tucker's astonishment, therefore, on the Sabbath after his return, to find him waiting for her at the close of the Bible service. The faintest suspicion that he had driven back to church for her did not cross the good woman's mind; she supposed he had business with some of the brethren, and hesitated whether to walk on as usual or to suggest waiting for him, when the farmer called out: "It's just as cheap to ride as to walk." Silently the woman took her seat in the buggy and silently they drove home, much to the husband's satisfaction, for it seemed to him a proof of the woman's dull, unappreciative nature. "She didn't act pleased, but was only dazed like, as I knew she would be," he muttered, as he went about his midday 'chores.'

At the same time Mr. Tucker was conscious of having performed a most praise-worthy act, and felt so comfortable that he resolved to repeat the experiment. So on the following Sabbath Jane again found her husband in waiting, and, as she mounted the high buggy, ventured to utter a half-audible 'thank you,' and to ask Samuel if he had been waiting long. To which Mr. Tucker replied that he had just reached the church, and didn't know but what he might find she had started on foot. This reply seemed to Jane a positive assurance that her husband had really returned for the sole purpose of taking her home; and her chilled heart glowed with warmth unknown for years. She longed to tell her husband how much she appreciated his trouble, but imagined it would sound "so foolish" that she kept her pleasure to herself.

The third Sabbath was rainy, and as she washed the breakfast dishes Mrs. Tucker kept thinking: "I wonder if Samuel means to come for me this noon; it would be such a help in the rain; I've half a mind to ask him!" This resolution was soon satisfied with the reasoning which had silenced many similar resolves in the past ten years. "No; I won't ask no favors; if he don't think enough of me to come, why he needn't." Although proudly unwilling to seek any attentions, Jane longed for some demonstration of her husband's love and care. She had walked home in the rain too often to greatly dread such exposure. But a week before the wife had tasted the joy of being considered, and longed for some further proof of her companion's affections.

Mrs. Tucker's heart leaped for joy when at noon she saw the old mare's head from the lecture-room window. Indeed, her hungering heart became quite manageable, and, entering the carriage door, melted Jane sobbed out:

"I'm sure it's very good of you, Samuel, to come for me this rainy day," and then the tears flowed so fast that further words were impossible.

Completely taken by surprise, Mr. Tucker exclaimed, "I declare, I hadn't no idee you'd care so much about it!"

"I wouldn't mind the walk," responded the wife, "but—Samuel—I'm so happy to have you care enough about me to come."

The strong man was brushing away a tear from his own cheek now, his tender, better nature was mastering the hard, selfish spirit which had long possessed him, and with coughing and choking: "Jane, I see I've made an awful botch of our married life; if you have a mind to forgive me, I'll see if I can't treat you from day to day as a woman ought to be treated."

This confession was all too much for the weeping wife, and she answered quickly:

"You're not a bit more to blame than I am; I've been proud and obstinate; but I tell you what it is, we will begin all over again."

The ice was now thoroughly broken, and that afternoon Farmer Tucker and his wife had a long talk over the past and the future. And in the evening, when they were about to start for the prayermeeting to be held in the neighboring school house, the renewed husband stooped and kissed his wife, saying:

"Jane, I've been a-thinking that married life ain't so different from farming or any other occupation. Now I ain't such a fool as to think a field will keep a-yielding if I only enrich it once and plant it once; I have to go over the same ground every season; and here I suppose you was a-going to do as you did when we were a-courting, without me doing my part at all."

"If I hadn't changed any maybe you would always have been as tender as you used to be," pleaded his wife.

"Perhaps so and perhaps not; but I don't mean to leave you to try no such plan. I tell you what it is, Jane, I feel as if we hadn't never really been married till to-day. It most seems as if we ought to take a wedding tour."

"I'm afraid we'll have to wait until next summer for that," was the smiling response.

"I suppose we shall, but we'll take it then certain; and I'll tell you where we'll go, wife—that's to Chautauquy."

For Young Men to Remember.

That clothes don't make the man.

That if they once get in debt they may never get out of it.

That parting the hair in the middle brings on softening of the brain.

That to deal honorably with all men they begin with their washerwoman.

That they need something more substantial than cigars, kid gloves and a cane to start housekeeping with.

That they can't reckon on their father's fortune to bring them through life. Fortunes are slippery things—better have something besides to fall back on.

That a girl who decks herself in the latest things out, and parades the streets while her mother does the washing, isn't worth wasting much love on.

That a fellow who deliberately proposes matrimony to a girl when he can't support himself, is either a first-class fraud or a fool—unless he marries for money and becomes her hired man.

A VERY PRACTICAL WOMAN.

This short, but pointed conversation between two ladies was overheard in front of the Japanese wood carver's stall at the Ignatious Hall exhibition. They were attentively regarding the carved figure valued at $3 000.

"It's a wonderful piece of work, of course; but I wouldn't give $3.000 for any old wooden man."

'Well, I should say not. Why, if I had $3,000 I could afford to have a live one.'

Terrible Disaster to the Steamer Algoma.

ONLY FIFTEEN OUT OF ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY SURVIVE TO TELL THE AWFUL STORY—A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

From the Harrisburg PATRIOT.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 11.—An Owen Sound, Ontario, dispatch says: As far as can be learned the passenger list and crew of the Algoma comprised over 120 persons. The Canadian Pacific officials are very reluctant to disclose the facts. It is, however, believed that a large number of passengers were taken on at Sault Ste. Marie. General Manager Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific will say nothing definite as to the number lost, while other officials freely state that fully one hundred have gone down with the vessel. The latest list of the saved makes the total 15.

STORY OF THE ACCIDENT.

The following account of the steamer disaster is given in a special from Port Arthus to the Winnipeg Free Press:

The steamer Algoma cleared from Owen Sound about 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday, the 5th inst., with freight and passengers for Port Arthur. Nothing of any account occurred during the voyage to Sault Ste. Marie, which point was made on Friday.

The boat passed White Fish Point about 1 o'clock in the afternoon on Friday. The wind was at that time blowing a stiff breeze from east northeast.

At White Fish Point sail was made and the boat proceeded on her way under a full head of steam, the wind increasing in violence, accompanied by snow and sleet.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning the wind shifted to the northeast and a violent storm raged. The sea was running mountains high, and the boat was tossed about like a cork. Fifteen minutes later the order was given to take in all sail and put the wheel hard a starboard to bring the ship about and head out on the lake again on account of the snow and darkness While the ship was coming about she struck the point known as Point Greenstone, on Isle Royale, about fifty miles from Port Arthur and one mile from the passage of the Island light-house, which has been abandoned since the first of the month. After striking the first time the boat urged ahead, being driven by the wind. A second shock occurred shortly after the first. The vessel struck the reef violently at the fore-side of the boiler, and she immediately commenced to break up.

Most of the passengers and a number of the crew were in bed at the time, but were rudely awakened by the shock, and the scene that followed beggars description. Water poured in through the broken vessel and over the bulwarks, putting out the fires in the furnaces and extinguishing the electric lights.

The screams of women and children were heard above the fury of the storm. The crew hurried hither and thither, doing what they could in the darkness to render assistance; but their efforts were of little avail, for in less than 20 minutes after the vessel struck, the entire forward portion of the boat was carried away, together with the cargo and human freight. Several clung to the rigging and life-line the Captain had stretched along the boat, but were soon swept away by the sea and swallowed up by the angry waves.

The stern of the boat was steadily dashed up on the rock, and those who were not too much exhausted by fatigue and benumbed by the cold crept to the after steerage and sought its welcome shelter. Less than an hour after striking all was over. The survivors remained from the time of the disaster—4 o'clock Saturday morning—until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, exposed to the inclement weather with but little food and clothing.

They were at the time sighted by some fishermen, who came to their rescue. After taking the shipwrecked people from their position and placing them on the Isle Royale, where a fire was kindled for their comfort, the fishermen went out and intercepted the Athabasca, which was coming in about ten miles away. Captain Foote, of that vessel, immediately put about and took the sufferers on board, and they were brought here. The bodies of Frost and Emerson were also brought in.

A DISGUSTED BRITON.

An English nobleman in reduced circumstances moved to Western Texas. Not long since the English exile, meeting Col. H. B. Andrews, Vice-President of the sunset Railroad, said:

"Hit's a blawsted kentry, ye knaw. I'm going 'ome to hold England."

'What's the matter with the country?."

'Why hit's beastly. If a man don't work he don't get anything to eat, ye knaw. I could have that at 'ome much cheaper, ye knaw."

TROLLING FOR ALLIGATORS.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE WHICH BLEW A BLOODY REPTILE INTO A THOUSAND PIECES.

(N. Y. Sun.)

We found him after a three days' hunt: Just above the mouth of a creek flowing into the St. John's River was a small bay, or lagoon, and as we rowed softly into this we caught sight of him. He was the biggest, ugliest-looking alligator ever seen in the state of Florida. He was two-thirds out of water on the sandy shore, and on the part of his body thus exposed we could see the marks of a dozen bullets. It was evident, from his size and wrinkles, that he was an old denizen—a boss among alligators. How many darkies, pigs and calves he had picked up during his career could only be guessed at, but he was sized up as having taken in his full share of this world's goods.

We were after his Highness. Among our party was a machinist, who had invented an infernal machine. It was a clock-work arrangement to explode gunpowder, and we had been hunting for some autocrat, monopoly or tyrant to try it on. We looked upon the alligator as the personification of all three individualities and corporations, and we wanted to strike a telling blow for freedom.

As soon as we discovered his hiding place we dropped back to the river, and the machinist prepared his surprise. The clock was set to run for half an hour, and the entire machine, properly charged, was encased in a large neck-piece of beef brought from the hotel kitchen. The beef was wound with wire, and then we were ready. The idea was that the alligator made his home in the lagoon, and that he was not likely to leave it under ordinary circumstances. A negro was landed and sent through the bushes to scare the old monopolist out of his sleep and off the shore. This was a feat easily accomplished, although the reptile seemed mad and insulted as he took to the water.

We then rowed into the lagoon, a stout fish-line was tied to the beef, and we began trolling for alligators. Using the oars very softly, we rowed back and forth across the lagoon, with the beef drawn along on the bottom. From the time the clock was set to the moment we entered the lagoon was full fifteen minutes. When we had used up five minutes of the other fifteen things began to look discouraging. Somebody besides the alligator might get blown up. We had exactly eight minutes left when the machinist called out:

"He's got it! He's got it! Pull for the shore!"

Somebody or something had grabbed the baited line with such eagerness that the man had to let it go. He had taken the precaution to attach a float, and as we stood on the shore we saw this float make a circuit of the lagoon. His Royal Nibbs had got it, and if that infernal machine was of any good he would soon be made to feel real unhappy.

We got back on a rise of ground about thirty feet from the water and waited. The four or five minutes seemed twenty, and we were beginning to despair, when the alligator suddenly breached like a whale, and at the same moment the explosion took place. There was a horrible muss. Meat and pieces of meat spattered the sand and bushes, and about half the tail was blown thirty feet into a tree to lodge there. The smell for the next ten minutes would have discounted all the skunks in Ohio, and we had to push back a quarter of a mile and wait for a cold wave to carry it off.

The infernal machine was a success. It had exploded to the very minute. It had begun from way back in the alligator's system and given him a surprise party which tickled him to death.

A SHORT HOMILY ON CHILDHOOD.

'Now, Bobby,' warned the old gentleman, as the family sat down to dinner, 'you mustn't bother Mr. Feather ly with foolish questions. In the presence of older people little boys should be seen, not heard.'

'I was only goin' to ask him one,' said Bobby, with an injured air.

'All right, Bobby,' laughed Featherly, very much amused, 'go ahead. You mustn't be to hard on Bobby, Mr. Hendricks,' he continued, turning to that gentleman, 'little boys are all alike; the world to them is full of the strange and inexplicable! And, after all, what are we but children of a larger growth? Er—what is it, Bobby, that you want to ask me?'

'I was goin' to ask you about your eyes.'

'My eyes?'

'Yes. Pa says that a silver dollar to you looks as big as a cartwheel.'

His Dead Son Alive.

The Prayers of the Righteous Availeth Much.

After Many Years a Father's Reputation is Cleared of a Terrible Suspicion by His Mourned Boy's Return.

From the PATRIOT of Nov. 13th, '85.

MIFFLINTOWN, Pa., Nov. 12.—At the extreme western end of Juniata county, near Waterloo, at a point where the counties of Huntingdon, Franklin, Perry and Juniata join each other, there lives a family by the name of Divinney, over whom a cloud of murder has been hanging for many years.

Porter Divinney was in the habit of having frequent quarrels with his young son, sometimes becoming so angry that he threatened the lad's life. Several years ago while the father and son were engaged at work in the field, his father ordered the boy to go on an errand, but he refused. The father became very much enraged and beat his son, telling the lad that if he did not obey he would kill him. The son took his departure from the father in a melancholy mood, and was not seen or heard of in the community from that time

About two years after the above occurrence a party of sportsmen, who were hunting on the mountains near near Roxbury, Franklin county, came upon the charred remains of a human being, and suspicion was at once aroused that the bones were those of young Divinney, who had so mysteriously disappeared. Upon the discovery being made the father appeared to be frantic with grief, and at once made information against his cousin, W. H. Knox, of near Blair's Mills, Huntingdon Co., charged him with the murder of his son, and Knox was arrested and lodged in jail at Chambersburg, Franklin county. Knox declared his innocence, and a number of prominent citizens went to Chambersburg in his behalf and proved an alibi, showing to the satisfaction of all that he was not in the neighborhood at the time the crime was supposed to have been committed, and he was released from custody. The opinion was expressed that Porter Divinney was guilty of murdering his own son, and almost the entire community heartily acquiesced, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Divinney was taken before a Justice, and although, what appeared to be ample circumstantial evidence was given to hold him on the charge of homicide, the Justice deemed it insufficient, and he was also given his liberty. Although the Justice declared him innocent, the citizens still looked upon and believed him to be the real murderer.

Divinney had always been regarded as a man of a very wicked disposition, but from the day of his acquittal before the Justice his neighbors refused to be friendly with him, and in their minds looked upon him as a murderer, although he time and again showed by his great grief that he was at least entitled to a doubt of being guilty of the terrible crime. It is said that the boy's mother even was moved by the mountain of evidence to doubt the father's innocence.

Life and its burdens of wickedness became unbearable, and Divinney sought refuge in the spirit of God, at a religious revival held at Waterloo, casting his load upon Him whose love passeth all understanding, and since that time the repentant man has lived the life of a consistent and conscientious Christian. He has publicly prayed to God for the deliverance of his son, so that the community would be satisfied that he was innocent of the charge of murder. But notwithstanding his prayers, the dark suspicion of murder was still in the minds of the people. At home it is said the father and mother of the boy, although living under the same roof and eating from the same table, would rarely speak to each other.

Years passed by, and the people still believed that the bones found on the mountain near Roxbury were those of young Divinney, and that the father was the murderer. One day last week, to the surprise of all and to the great joy of the grief-striken parents, the son who was mourned as dead made his appearance at the old homestead, alive and well, but grown almost to manhood. The mother could hardly believe that he who stood before her was the son who left home so suddenly and mysteriously many years ago. But he gave so full an account of his departure and wanderings since that eventful day when his father and he quarreled in the field, that all doubts in the mother's mind were set at rest, and the father, mother and long-lost son embraced each other and gave praise to God amid a throng of neighbors for the safe deliverance of their beloved son, and the removal of the terrible charge that had clung to the father for so many years.

The lad when he left the parental roof wandered through the country until he landed in one of the Western States, where he engaged work with a farmer and remained there until a few weeks ago, when he was made cognizant of the charge against his father, and he decided to pay his parents a visit, and thus relieve the odium that was weighing on the father's mind, and with this idea in view he arrived at the old homestead last week. It was truly a happy relief to the father, who had grown aged through grief. The family that has been despondent and gloomy for years is now a happy and united family. It still remains a mystery as to whom the remains found on the mountain near Roxbury belonged.

A Scientific Teacher.

How He Rather More Than Filled the Bill.

"Two years ago this fall," said Uncle Josiah Windless' "there come 'long a young feller with a pale yeller face an' head, an'a slick lookin', but slim figer, and wanted the position o' the school Board. I have sense lost the office, owin' partly to a slight change, politically, in the surroundin' kentry, and partly to the dereliction o' some o' my friends.

"Well, this was a nice appearin', polite young feller, an' I soon foun' by throwin' him some questions cal'ated to briskly sound his education, ef he hed any, thet he knowed a-plenty to teach in our deestric', an' p'r'aps some over. I then tole 'im plainly thet although his mental equilibrium, like, was, in my mind, fully established, his physical mold of form har'ly denoted the necessary amount of muscle or wind fer the place.

"We'd been considerably bothered, I told 'im, by hevin' hed sich slender, unwholesome chaps, who hed rashly undertook to run the school, git worsted in every encounter of importance they'd hed with some o' the more advanced scholars. Durin' the last term, on two or three 'casions, the onesidedness o' these contests hed resulted in the entire disruption, sorter, o' the school, an' the retirin' to the neighborin' woods o' the school-teacher.

"'Nothing,' I said, 'seemed to tend to the disorganization an' gineral disquietin' o' the educational system of our community as to hev a teacher take holt o' it thet hed only mediocre attainments in back-heelin', collar-an'-elbow an' plum out-an'-out knockin' down an' fallin' onto. I candidly tole 'im that I's afeered he 'd be winded in a few roun's even by some o' the younger an' less ambitious pupils. What could we, the School Board, hev to expect, then, when he's tackled, an' tackled he would be, by one or more o' the head scholars, weighin', after harvest, one hundred and ninety pound in their bare feet. There was pupils on the roll o' thet little country school, thet with one solid jolt under the hat rim, could show him more stars than all the colleges an' observatories in the hull Western Reserve.

"He looked a leedle excited an' more earnest, like, at this, but said right off he'd undertake it anyway ef he could hev a chance, as he was hard up an' wanted money bad to complete his theological studies. I smiled some et the idee o' how them big six-foot students ud help pave his way to the ministery.

'Well, we concluded to give 'im a chance, as he knew somethin' already, an' was quiet an' willin' to learn more, an' we hoped this experience would, on the whole, at least not have a tendency to upset, but strengthen, rather, his purpose in life. The day-school opened; I made it a p'int to go roun' to the school-house, long 'bout the middle o' the forenoon, determined rather 'n to hev, the clever young feller hurt I'd take a han' myself. On enterin' the school-room I's surprised to at fust see nobody but the slim young teacher, an' him very dejected an' anxious lookin'. Goin' a ways up the aisle, I seed two o' the ole time ringleaders o' school-house rackets settin' quietly in a corner pale an' streaked an' with heads tied up, but very intent on their lessons.

"'My friend,' said the teacher, I'm a-feered your no doubt well intended description o' these pupils, was, unwisely, very much overdrawn. B'lievin' implicitly, every word ye uttered, I come yere determined to win er 't 'd be the fault o' the referee. An' when these two fellers showed 'et they's spilin' fer a fight, I give it to 'em without a single stipulation, an' the best I hed in the shop, never thinkin' but what they knew somethin' o' sparrin'. Yere ye see the result,' sweeping his arms languidly over the empty benches an' towards the two damaged but studious youths in the corner. O' course,' he continued, 'I knocked out the greenies too quick for common exercise, an' so doin' innocently got in on 'em so hard that they'll be no good to study, though now ever so keen, fer two weeks. The rest o' the school tuck to the woods before the close o' the fust an' only roun'."

'Sinkin' back into a dispirited heap, he wound up with: 'I'm feered I've busted the school up.'

'An' would ye believe it? We couldn't no more git a single scholar to go to school agin to thet feller than nothin'! So we finally hed to fire 'im with two hull months' unearned pay in his pockets.'

THE civil service commission organized the other week by electing Mr. Edgerton as chairman.

IT is said that Davenport, the defeated candidate for governor in New York spent $75,000 during the recent campaign for election purposes. But then he can afford to spend money for a hopeless cause—he is a millionaire.

LOUIS DAVID RIEL, the renowned Canadian rebel was hung for high treason against the Queen of Great Britain. The execution took place on Monday morning, Nov. 16. Riel died without a struggle. Considerable excitement prevails in Quebec over the hanging of Riel.

ALTHOUGH President Cleveland occupies the executive chair not a year yet he has on several occasion shown great energy which in most cases was crowned with the best results. His proclamation to the cattle rangers to clear government lands had the desired effect, when they felt his iron determination to have his demands obeyed. It is to be hoped that he will also successfully settle the matter of protection of the German and Austrian born naturalized citizens while in the "Vaterland," and compel those empires to respect the rights of American citizens and the laws of the United States.

A SERENADE was given to Gov. Hill of New York recently at Elmira to which he responded in a lengthy address and in which he pointed out the significance of the democratic victory in that state. He remarked that it gives evidence that independent voters have quit being ruled by presumptuous leaders and newspapers; that they have declared themselves in favor of reform and good government and are therefore united with the democratic party; that the people at large endorse Cleveland's administration, but not by electing his opponents, as the mugwumps would have it; that the people are tired of attacking the South and not willing to fan the dying out passions created by the late civil war to a hot flame. He said it also signified that capital and labor are alike protected by the law, and that the efforts of the laboring man to better his condition should find the necessary legislative support.

Pennsylvania Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The President to-day took up the Pennsylvania appointments. John M. Campbell was the first, he being named as Surveyor of the Port of Philadelphia, and Richard H. Arbucle, Collector of Customs at Erie. Later William F. Harrity was appointed Postmaster at Philadelphia, to succeed H. S. Huidekoper, suspended.

Then the Secretary of the Treasury followed suit and appointed Wm. D. Kendrick Shipping Commissioner, at Philadelphia, vice James A. O'Brien, removed.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov, 16. 1885.

The new civil service commission has been organized here by the election of Mr. Edgerton as its president. That its administration under the new board will be the deadest kind of a dead failure there can be no manner of doubt, inasmuch as Eaton the tender-footed and weak-kneed New York end of it will be the be-all and end all of the whole outfit. And even if Eaton were out of the way, as everybody hoped he would be, there is no board of three, or any other number, who can satisfactorily administer a law which was never intended to be satisfactorily administerd. Indeed the provisions of the civil service act are nothing but a series of incongruities and downright stupidities, which the coming Congress, if it means to be sincere in the adoption of a reform, must unconditionally and absolutely wipe out and substitute a new act based upon something like common sense.

There has never been an important invention introduced to the public in this country whose discoverer has not been compelled at some time or other to fight off some cranky pretender who away back in some long forgotten period had evol ved the same identical thing, but had not sufficient faith in his discovery to apply for a patent. Here is Bell of the telephone, whose discovery and application of the transmission of sounds through the human voice, has set the whole world at talking, and whose invention is scarcely less of a benefaction to the human race than the telegraph itself, is now for about the hundredth time drawn into court to confront another fraudulent pretender by name of Rogers who has invoked the aid of one of the Cabinet to secure a foothold against Bell in the courts, by giving the said Cabinet member a million and a half dollars in the stock of the company which shall have established by legal decision the priority of the discovery of the telephone. There is no doubt that the principle of transmission of sounds over wires by the means of electricity was discovered long before Professor Bell was born, but the writer of this correspondence knows the fact that Bell was giving his exhibitions in public halls in all the large cities of the country for months prior to dedicating his application to the public use, and no one in this country or any other had during that long period advanced a single pretention to question his right to the discovery. But the success that has attended the introduction of Bell's great invention has excited the cupidity of a myriad of fellows, who, like Rogers, will doubtless find friends and money enough to keep up a constant fight upon him in the courts To say nothing of the repeated decisions in favor of Bell in the Patent Office by its different commissioners, there have been scores of decisions in his favor both by the courts of equity and of law through the verdicts of juries in nearly every State in the Union. PHONO.

SERVIA DECLARES WAR.

A Formal Announcement of Hostilities With Bulgaria—The Situation in Roumelia.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Servia has declared war against Bulgaria.

PHILIPOPPOLIS. Nov. 13.—Seventy-five thousand men have been raised in Eastern Roumelia. Drilling is going on continuously. Prince Alexander and Premier Karaveloff will remain here until a final decision has been reached by the Balkan conference.

The government has information that the bulk of the Servian army has marched to Lescovic and Vrania and is facing the Turks. It is thought probably that this movement has been made because Turkey is arming the Albanian militia.

A fresh military conscription has been commenced. The ardor of the people is unabated.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—It is reported from Nissa that all the powers, except England, have suspended relations with Bulgaria.

RUSTCHUK, Nov. 13.—Persistent reports are current to the effect that Russia intends to withdraw her Consuls from Bulgaria. Such action, it is believed would excite the Bulgarians against Prince Alexander. The reports create a bad impression.

BELGRADE, Nov. 17.—The Servian Government has called out the second and third corps of reserves.

The Servian division marching on Widdin gave battle to the Bulgarians near Widdin and inflicted upon them a crushing defeat. The loss was heavy on both sides. The Servians captured 1,000 prisoners.

The Confusion of Europe.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Post says: Only Austria was able to perform the task, unpleasant to her, of restraining Servia. The result of the present complications will be a Rusdian descent upon Bulgaria, and if Turkey interferes Mr. Gladstone will raise the cry of Turkish atrocities and upset the Conservative Government; then the confusion of Europe will be complete.

The Frankfort Gazette says it will be a miracle if Austria and Russia are not drawn into the struggle.

The Cologne Gazette says it is convinced that the Turk will be driven from Europe.

Miscellaneous News.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will soon begin drilling for gas at Kane to light their shops, round house, offices and yard. If successful, it is rumored, the foundry and iron works at Ronoyo will be removed to the former place.

A destructive fire at Galveston, Texas, swept over a large part of the city on last Friday. Fifty-two blocks, containing about 400 houses, were burned and the loss of property is placed between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000. The city presents a frightful picture of desolation. A remarkable fact is however that no lives were lost during the terrible panic.

Fell Into a Hole.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Yesterday a cave-in 300 feet in diameter occurred over the old workings of the Laurel Hill mine, right beside the Lehigh Valley Railroad tracks. Two railroad sidings, a dozen coal cars and a large dwelling-house fell into the hole. The occupants of the house had moved away, fearing such a disaster. The damage to the track has been repaired and trains are running as usual.

The Galveston Fire.

A Description of That Portion of the City Swept by the Flames.

GALVESTON, November 14.

The following description will serve as a diagram of the fire: The city lies at the east end of an oval-shaped island pointing nearly east and west. The thoroughfares running lengthwise on the island are all avenues, lettered alphabetically, beginning on the north or bay side with Avenue A and paralleling across the island to Avenue Q, with the streets additional, to wit, M and a Half and A Half. This makes nineteen streete cutting the island lengthwise. The cross streets are numbered, beginning with Sixth at the nose of the island and running west to Fifty-third street. The fire district begins in the middle of the block bounded by Sixteenth and Seventeenth at Avenue B, crosses diagonally to the corner of Avenue D and Nineteenth street; thence south along Nineteenth to Avenue D (or Broadway), when in jumps west one square to Twenty first street, thence south to Avenue M, thence back to Twentieth street, thence straight along Twentieth to Avenue O. Starting again at Avenue B, the district runs south seven squares along Sixteenth street to Avenue 1, thence west to corner of Avenue 1 and Seventeenth street, thence south three squares to Avenue M, thence east half a block to the middle of Avenue M, thence south to Avenue N, thence west to the corner of Avenue N, and Nineteenth street and thence along Nineteenth street to Avenue O.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The NEW YORK manager of the Fire Insurance Association of London states that his company's policies in the burnt district of Galveston were less than $126,000, the amount mentioned in the press dispatches last night. Some of the risks were covered also by reinsurance.

The weather to-day was springlike and warm and business generally was resumed. The relief committees are actively at work and every poor homeless family has been comfortably but temporarily sheltered.

Telegrams of sympathy and aid continue to arrive. Governor Ireland sent $50, the city of Denison $250 and eyen the district of Fargo, Dak., telegraphs $50. The people of Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Houston and other sister cities are sending private contributions to unfortunate friends. Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the NEW YORK World, wires his sympathy and offers aid, to which Mayor Fulton has responded as follows:

"In response to your highly appreciated dispatch I beg leave to say that while we are not soliciting outside aid we will not for the present reject any contribution voluntarily proffered."

Famous Medicine Men.

Messrs. Root & Tinker, of New York City, who have published from time to time handsome lithograph portraits of the prominent journalists of the United States and Great Britain, have just issued a very attractive engraving, 22 by 28 inches, of the leading Proprietary Medicine Manufacturers of the United States, including Dr. J. C. Ayer, C. I. Hood, Dr. Hostetter of "Hostetter's Bitters." John Hodge of "Merchant's Gargling Oil," Mr. Scott of "Scott's Emulsion," Dr. J. H. Schenck, H. E. Bucklen of "Electric Bitters," Mr. Powell of "Iron Bitters," Dr. Tutt, Dr. Brandreth of "Brandreth's Pills," and H. H. Warner of Warner's Safe Cure" and "Tippecanoe" fame. We doubt if a more attractive looking groupe of eleven men could be got together from any one walk of life. As is quite appropriate, the central figure is H. H. Warner, the background of whose vignette is his trade mark of an iron safe, inscribed with the name of the famous Warner's Safe Remedies. Mr. Warner is the most prominent as well as the most sucessful proprietary medicine manufacturer this country has yet produced, and his zeal in the prosecution of his business grew out of the fact, in large measure, that he himself, when given up to die as incurable of an extreme kidney disorder, in 1879, was cured by the remedy to which he has given world-wide fame—"Warner's Safe Cure." The sale of the "Warner's Safe Remedies" has been so widely extended that warehouses and laboratories for their manufacture have been established in all quarters of the globe, not the least prosperous being one in far distance Australia. People have erroneous notions, both of the motives and character of proprietary medicine men. As a rule they are solid, substantial, trustworthy citizens, who win the success that comes to them purely on the merit of the goods they produce and of the work they perform. This is especially true of the central figure of this group. This picture hanging side by side with prominent journalists, religious, political and foreign, will probably attract more attention than those famous editorial writers, because there is hardly a person who walks the street, who has not either used some of the remedies manufactured by these men, or had their interest stimulated in the gentlemen themselves by the record made by their remedies among personal friends. This picture is sent out with the compliments of Mr. H. H. Warner, who, besides having won such distinguished fame as the manufacturer of "Warner's Safe Cure," is well known as the founder of the "Warner Astronomical Observatory," Rochester, N. Y., and the "Warner Astronomical Prizes," for cometary discovery, so eagerly sought for by astronomers all over the world. Mr. Warner is a self-made man, and those who know him best say that the success which he has won thus early in life (he being at present not over 45 years of age), is in all respects eminently deserved, for he is a man of very broad views and wide-extended liberality.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

—Rupp's butcher shop on Penn street has been purchased by W. H. Reifsnyder and will be removed to his premises on North street, to be used for outbuildings.

NOTICE.—The new Process Roller Flour, manufactured by J. B. Fisher, Penn Hall, is for sale at D. S. Kauffman & Co's new store, Main street Millheim, Pa.

—No more delicious dessert can be placed on any table than Perforated California Apricots. Try it and buy them in D. S. Kauffman & Co's grocery department.

—A party of nine hunters from this neighborhood, among them our townsman, G. W. Harter, were out on a deer-hunt last week and returned with five of the fleet-foot animals.

A HEALTH journal tells its readers how to take cold. What most of us want to know is how to let it go. Take a bottle of Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine and it will go because it must.
Sold by J. Eisenhtth, Millheim Pa.

—Em'l. H. Musser, executor of the estate of Elizabeth Shirk, deceased, late of Aaronsburg, advertises by bills the sale of the real estate of decedent, to take place, Nov. 28th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., on the premises.

—Adolf Lalloz, carriage manufacturer, 119 Carroll Street, Buffalo, N. Y., states: "I was troubled with nausea of the stomach, sick headache and general debility. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."

—Ayer's Sarsaparilla works directly and promptly, to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves, and brace up the system. It is in the truest sense an alterative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

—Mr. J. A. Swavely, Bellefonte, spent a few days in our midst, soliciting orders for the Centre Democrat book bindery. We believe he met with fair success. Mr. Swavely gave the JOURNAL a short call and is a very pleasant newspaper man.

—FROM the pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa: I was so troubled with catarrh that it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B. F. Liepsner. 44-4t

—The funeral of Michael Frank, deceased, on last Tuesday forenoon was very largely attended by his many relatives and friends. His remains were interred in the Lutheran cemetery at Aaronsburg. Revs. Deitzler and Hengst conducted the services, the former preaching a sermon from Romans 14:12.

—Monday was a lively day again for commercial men. As high as four and five at a time could be seen in D. S. Kauffman & Co's store. That store seems to be a general resort for these fellows. They seem to know where the most goods are sold and the largest stock is needed.

—Ladies' and Children's Wraps—the finest selection to be found anywhere in the valley. The latest styles of Cloaks, Newmarkets and Walking Coats at D. S. Kauffman & Co's, store, Millheim, Pa.

NOTICE. — The duplicate of school taxes for 1884 having been left in my hands for collection, I request all delinquents to settle their taxes until December 1st, as I will collect the same according to law after that date.
G. W. HARTER.

—If you receive a circular from New York stating "that an organ will be sent to you to introduce in your neighborhood, but that you must send on $4 to pay for the freight," don't you do it. It is another new swindle, the instrument being nothing more than an ordinary ten-cent mouth organ.

—The crossing from the Journal office to the opposite side reflects much credit on John M. Road, as a mechanic, while Messrs. Jon. Harter and A. Walter deserve the thanks of the neighbors for having had as good and substantial a structure put down. Now if Penn street could boast of as many street lamps as crossings we could move along smoothly on dark nights.

—The turnout to the Clymer concert on last Friday evening was small, no doubt on account of the scarcity to money. The performance however was very good and was much enjoyed by the limited audience.

But alas, the behavior of our town boys, who beleagured the entrance to the hall, was a disgrace to the community. We are reasonably sure that strangers depart from our town with not a very good opinion of our boys.

—We would refer our readers to the advertisement of A. C. Mingle, Bellefonte's popular boot and shoeman, in this week's issue. Mr. Mingle carries a large and fine stock and persons in need of anything in his line will find it to their advantage to give him a call when in Bellefonte. Not only can you secure bargains there, but also have a large stock to select from. His prices are so fixed that customers can buy goods there for less money than anywhere else. Times are hard and everybody tries to make money go as far as possible—therefore take our advice and go to Mingle.

—A Christian Conference will be held in the Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 24th and 25th, '85. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The speakers will be Rev. A. B. Simson and Dr. John Cookman, New York City, Rev. H. W. Brown, Chicago, Mrs. M. Baxter, London, England, Mrs. E. Stroud Smith, Liverpool, England, Carrie F. Judd, Buffalo, Mrs. S. G. Beck, Phila.

All who desire a deeper Spiritual life, a special baptism of the Holy Spirit for service and to understand better the teachings of the Scriptures respecting our physical life in Christ, are invited to attend.

For the JOURNAL.

MR. EDITOR :—

The biography of Grandmother Gotwald as prepared and read by Mrs. Deininger at the Memorial service at the Missionary Convention at Aaronsburg has been published in tract form by the Lutheran Publication House in Philadelphia and is offered to the churches and missionary societies at 5 cents a copy. Mrs. S. A. Fair, of Salona, Pa., will fill all orders promptly. It should be extensively read throughout the whole church. The life of a noble, exemplary christian woman, beautifully portrayed and written by one who knew and loved her. It will do good wherever read. For missionary purposes the money will all be appropriated and may much good be done thereby, is the wish of the executive committee of the Synodical Society.

PUELLA E. DORNBLASER,
Pres't.

—On Thursday evening Mr. L. Wesley Smith, a compositor in the Centre Hall Reporter office, and his bride, formerly Miss Jean L. Kuhn, of Boalsburg, registered at the Spring Mills House. Rev. W. E. Fisher performed the marriage rites.

—HEADACHE, TORPID LIVER, COSTIVENESS. Simmons Liver Regulator, by its mild cathartic properties, relieves the bowels from obstructions and cleansing. Cures headache, indigestion and liver complaint—even the most confirmed chronic cases.

—Miss Mary Heinle, residing with her aged father, at the tollgate in the Gap north of town, suddenly left her home last week and has not been heard of up to this writing. The lady is said to be dementated and had attempted to leave home several times before. The old gentleman is in a very feeble condition and is being waited on by Michael Zeigler.

RUN AWAY.—Yesterday noon, when Mr. M. I. Jamison and Edward Wirt returned from Sugar Valley, the horse took fright in Smith and Zerby's alley, and ran away. Passing the corner of Zerby's stable the buggy struck and was upset, and the occupants spilled out. The horse ran some distance before it could be caught. The buggy was badly wrecked, but fortunately nobody was hurt.

—While at Spring Mills the other day we stopped with Mr. J. H. Bibby, the gentlemanly proprietor of the Spring Mills House. Mr. Bibby is an experienced hotelist, who treats his guests in the best manner. The house is kept in excellent order, having all the modern accommodations, and his table is always filled with the best food the market can afford and prepared in a manner to suit the appetites of all traveling men.

—The Pennsylvania railroad began the sale of duplex tickets on trains Thursday. If a passenger does not buy a ticket at the station for any reason and offers to pay his fare to the conductor, that official sells him a ticket, for which he charges him at the rate of three cents per mile and ten cents adpitional. To this ticket is attached a coupon, which the passenger keeps and presents at the office of the company when he reaches his destination, and the ten cents rae refunded.

—All the preliminary arrangements for the organization of a Lutheran congregation at Coburn have been made. The Evangelical church at that place has been rented for holding services there from time to time. A committee of four has been appointed to take the necessary steps in procuring a charter. The prospects are that the congregation will start with a membership of about 35. The name of the church is likely to be Trinity Ev. Luth. Church of Coburn. A lot, for the purpose of erecting a church edifice thereon, has been purchased, but no building operations will be undertaken at present. All indications point to a strong and well-managed church body. The new congregation is to be part of the Aaronsburg charge, Rev. Deitzler, Pastor. We wish the brethren Godspeed.

PROGRAMME OF THE EXCELSIOR LITERARY SOCIETY for Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, '85 :—

Inaugural Address.
Select Reading, Miss Annie Rhoades.
Essay, Miss Cora Reifsnyder.
Declamation, Mr. Fred E. Gutelius.
Select Reading, Miss Cora Kreamer.
Declamation, Mr. Lewis Frain.
" " Herman Alter.

Debate, Subject: "Resolved, that the parent exerts a greater influence in training the mind of the child than the teacher." Affirmative, Messrs. E. E. Bressler, W. K. Alexander, T. M. Osman, A. Walter. Negative, Messrs. J. H. Kreamer, E. H. Long, D. R. Foreman, D. L. Zerby.

The leading disputants have the right to select such other speakers from the membership, as they may see proper, in order that the question may be thoroughly discussed.

The society will close by singing the following hymns: "What a friend we have in Jesus," and "Nearer my God to Thee."

OBITUARY.

AN OLD FATHER GONE.—Mr. Michael Frank died at the home of his son in-law, Wm. H. Smith, in Penn township, with whom he had resided for nearly two years, on last Saturday morning. Mr. Frank was a son of Philip and Catharine Frank and was born July 19th, 1806. In his youth he connected himself with the Lutheran church and on the 26th day of Nov. 1835 was united in holy matrimony by Rev. Abel to Anna Homan, daughter of Peter Homan, of Haines township. He was the father of nine children, two of whom preceeded him into eternity. Two of his sons are living in the West and were unable to be present at the funeral. The rest of the children attended the funeral and paid their last tribute of respect at their father's tomb.

Deceased was well known throughout the county, having lived on different farms. He was respected by all who became acquainted with him. For the last fifteen years he was unable to work, being afflicted with rheumatism, and compelled to use crutches. In the last few years his general health began to fail and on the 4th instant he was prostrated with dysentery and confined to his bed, suffering greatly. On last Saturday morning he silently and calmly passed into the eternal world, leaving good evidence to his family that he had peace with God. His age at the time of his death was 79 years, 3 months and 25 days.

"Peace to his ashes."

—If people troubled with colds, would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that the Pectora wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.

—PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for December as received, surpasses in beauty even what we had expected. It contains two costly steel engravings; a mammoth colored steel fashion-plate; a superb colored pattern, such as would sell at retail for fifty-cents; and more than half a hundred wood-cuts of fashions, embroidery, etc. Only the immense circulation of "Peterson" can explain how all this can be afforded. The literary contents are even better than usual. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens finishes her powerful novelet, that has awakened so much interest during the year. Professor Boutelle contributes a story so intensely exciting, that it might have been written by the late Hugh Conway himself. Besides these, there are numerous other first-class tales and other articles, some of them charmingly illustrated. This number ends the volume. Great improvements for 1886 are promised, though "Peterson" seems to us already as nearly perfect as a lady's book can be. Every woman ought to take it. It is exceedingly cheap: only two dollars a year. Great deductions are made, moreover, to clubs, with costly premiums for getting up clubs: among others, an extra copy to a person getting up a club of four and sending $6.50. Now is the time to get up clubs. Specimens are sent gratis, if written for in good faith. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

COBURN.

The new store room of Mr. Hosterman is nearing completion.

Our genial and clever merchant, "Bob" Vonada, is up to the "hub" this week seeing that the mill of justice grinds truly.

Mr. Sam'l. Ulrich just finished his king corn, and from a 74 acre field took 885 bushels of corn ears, an average of 122 bushels per acre. Pretty good "Sam," who can beat it?

Mr. Sam'l Ard, the gentlemanly clerk in Trumpfheller & Vonada's store, has his new and elegant mansion about completed and will move to town soon. He is welcome as a citizen.

Where is that new sidewalk we were to have put down ere this? Don't let it fall through, men, double your subscriptions, first.

Miss Ella Campbell, one of Coburn's charming young misses, has gone to Salona for the present.

The seven mountains were full of Penn township citizens last week, hunting the long antler buck that is said to feed on the ardent pastures. Well, the buck is still on the hillside; and after strolling over the mountain for four days, Messrs. Grenninger, Em'l and Adam Kerstetter, Frank and Jacob Moyer, Andy Campbell, Sam. Clark and Thos. Eisenhuth, returned home, happy, light-loaded and free.

Mr. Trumpfheller is in the store this week handling bacon, butter, calico, etc.

Mr. Grenninger is in Bellefonte attending court this week.

The protracted meeting is still in progress and is having some success.

The first school month will close Friday next. Z.

DR. SAWBONES says the surest way to take a cold is to be always hugging the stove. Young man remember this, and when you go to see your girl on Sunday night don't spend your time hugging the stove; but if you do get a cold Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine can be relied upon to cure you.

AARONSBURG.

Examine your stove pipes and chimneys.

A cold wave struck us on Saturday and continued for several days.

The Clymer concert audience was very small. There was no change from last fall's programme.

The Lutheran congregation can now claim the most pleasant and comfortable Sunday School room in town, since they furnished the same with a pair of new heaters, about 100 chairs and covered the floor with a new carpet.

Rev. M. L. Deitzler and lady are away attending conference at Mifflinburg during this week. Mrs. Deitzler will, after several days' stay at Mifflinburg, continue her journey to Snyder county to visit friends in their former charge. She will be gone several weeks.

At last Sabbath's communion services Mrs. L. E. Stover, Mrs. Chas. H. Stover, Mrs. Wilson Burd, and Messrs. Levi and Allen Stover and Nathaniel Boob united with the Aaronsburg Luth. congregation.

That local in a late issue of one of the Bellefonte papers, putting the cost of the new Reformed church at Aaronsburg at $10,000, is erroneous by $3000, the actual cost of the building being $7000. ANOTHER.

THE U. S. Dispensatory and the Science of Chemistry justify the assertion that for tonic, diaphoretic and expectorant properties, no combination of remedies can be devised to equal in power and efficacy Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine. It is the safe and reliable standby in case of croup and whooping-cough. Dissatisfied purchasers can have their money refuded.

SMITH TOWN.

Most of our farmers are through husking corn.

The writer celebrated his birthday last Thursday by handling six loads of corn. [Rather prosaic, Jumbo. Ed.]

Mr. John Kern intents to sell out and go west.

On Monday, Mr. Brumgard of Millheim, gave us a sample of corn husking.

Milton Kern is handling logs for the steam sawmill on J. H. Reifsnyder's farm.

Mr. Henry Keen is ahead again. He has already two large fields ploughed for next summers corn.

Next is butchering. Will be commenced this week at different places in this neighborhood.

Last week a gang of thieves broke in Jacob Catherman's cellar in Brush valley, and carried off all the eat things, they could find. All that was left was a little bit of mush for the family's breakfast. Mr. Catherman is a brother of Fred. Catherman, of Mm. il lhei JUMBO.

DID it ever occur to you, thoughtful and prudent reader, that Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine must be an article of real merit, or how could the manufacturer ever be able to advertise "money refunded to all dissatisfied purchasers."

WOODWARD.

J. C. Motz is at present at Pittsburg, whither he was called on business last Thursday.

Woodward is now suplied in a much needed want, in the vocation of J. M. Weaver, boot and shoemaker, who occupies part of Andrew Moyer's premises on Main street.

A party of hunters from Union county shot two fine deer last week in the Narrows below this place.

John Barner also shot a fine deer two weeks ago near this place.

One of our esteemed citizens unfortunately failed to kill a large buck at a distance of twenty yards, on account of the modern firearms. A neighbor had kindly loaned him the gun, but the mechanism of the triggers proved a Pocahontus, which saved the deer's life.

Excuse my letter so given to hunting experiences, but what else can one write at this season of the year.

ARGENTIS.

INTERESTING TO BOTH SEXES

Any man or woman making less than $40 weekly should try our easy money-making business. ### MADISONBURG.

Harry and Frank Miller and ladies spent Saturday and Sunday in the vicinity of State College, visiting friends.

A. Ocker is building a ware room for the use of Mr. Beck, our new merchant.

The Clymer family treated us to some of their excellent music last Tuesday evening. It was well worth spending a quarter to hear them.

Hillie Hazel, son of Jared Hazel, returned home on Saturday. He had been working for Mr. John Roush, near Bellefonte.

At this writing the Evangelical meeting is still in progress.

Adam Shafer has built a front porch to his house.

Jacob W. Hazel has gone to the Alleghany mountains for a two weeks' hunt. If Jacob catches a deer and chokes it as hard as he did the rooster he took to market, he won't have any use for a gun.

Jacob B. Hazel has taken an agency for cigars and expects to canvass this county for a start.

Mrs. Rebecca Royer is on the sick list.

Next week I will try and give you the population and business of our burg. STILL.

A SIGN in Cleveland reads "Ice Kream Sallune," which is probably the worst cold spell of the season; but for the worst spell of cold Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine is the best cure you will be able to find.

DIED

On the 12th, inst, in Penn township, John Charles Brogdon, aged 65 years, 3 months and 11 days.

Deceased was a native of Germany, having been born in Wolmsdorf, July 31st, 1820.

THIS PAPER may be found on file at GEO. P. ROWELL & CO'S Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce Street), where advertising contracts may be made for it in NEW YORK.

THE GREAT REGULATOR

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

PURELY VEGETABLE.

Are You Bilious?

The Regulator never fails to cure. I most cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from Bilious Attacks or any Disease caused by a disarranged state of the Liver.
KANSAS CITY, Mo. W. R. BERNARD.

Do You Want Good Digestion?

I suffered intensely with Full Stomach, Headache, etc. A neighbor, who had taken Simmons Liver Regulator, told me it was a sure cure for my trouble. The first dose I took relieved me very much, and in one week's time I was as strong and hearty as ever I was. It is the best medicine I ever took for Dyspepsia.
RICHMOND, Va. H. G. CRENSHAW.

Do You Suffer from Constipation?

Testimony of HIRAM WARNER, Chief-Justice of Ga.: "I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for Constipation of my Bowels, caused by a temporary Derangement of the Liver, for the last three or four years, and always with decided benefit."

Have You Malaria?

I have had experience with Simmons Liver Regulator since 1865, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times for diseases peculiar to malarial regions. So good a medicine deserves universal commendation.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed.

It causes new growth of hair on bald heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seldom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clear of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and thick.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the healthful influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, and is a delightful article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless; produces a permanent natural color; and, being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.

QUAKER Is the Best TABLE SAUCE.

Thousands of articles are now manufactured that in former years had to be imported, paying high import duty as it is now being done on Lea & Perrins table sauce; the QUAKER TABLE SAUCE takes its place; it has been pronounced by competent judges just as good and even better. The QUAKER SAUCE has slowly but surely gained great importance and is replacing the very best imported sauce on the shelf of the grocer, the tables of the restaurant and the tables of the rich and poor men, greatly prized and relished by all on account of its piquancy, aroma, taste, strength and pureness. The inventor has by years of study of the secret virtues contained in the aromatic spices of the Indies and China, such as mace, nutmeg, cinnamon, genuine Jamaica ginger, and peppers and buds of trees unknown to most men, and by long practice succeeded to combine their extracts in such a liquid form as we now find it, of agreeable taste, and so invigorating as to be taken in place of stomach bitters. By manufacturing this sauce here, heavy import duties and freights are saved, and it is sold at a lower figure to the dealer, who makes a better profit on Quaker Sauce can sell it to the consumer cheaper than the very best imported article hardly equaling ours. If your grocer does not keep it, write us for prices, etc. Sold in bottles or by the gallon.

She Felt Better.

The Angelic Boy who Pulled a Tooth With a String.

She was a woman apparently 50 years old, plainly dressed, and she sat in a doorway on Monroe avenue with tears in her eyes and a mad look on her face. By and by a boy who was hanging around there asked if she was crying because she had lost her husband.

'Naw! If it was only that I should be a happy woman,'she replied.

'Have yer broke yer leg, or lost money in a busted bank, or come to a divorce?' he continued.

'Naw! The trouble is that I have got an old tooth here which has been trying to jump out of my head for a week. I've been here three times to have it out, but I dash't go up stairs to the dentist.'

'I.kin imagine your feelin's ma'am. I'v bin right there myself. Let's see the tooth.'

She opened her mouth very wide, and he peeked and peered and finally placed his dirty finger on the identical tooth.

'Is it a stiddy ache, ma'am?'

'Yes purty stiddy.'

'Kinder loose, ain't it?'

'Yes'

'You don't want the dentist to pick up a bowie knife and jam the gum around the gum root—grab for a chisel and pare away at a prong—clap on his old pinchers and jerk the top of your head over the roof? Madam,are my surmises correct?'

'Mercy! But talk that way!I'm all in a chill!' she gasped.

'Say,' he whispered, as he pulled a cord from his pocket and made a slip-noose, 'lemme try it. I'll pull as soft as 'lasses and if it hurts, you can catch hold of the string.'

It took five minutes to coax her into it, but at last the noose was slipped over and drawn tight. She was on the fourth stair;he on the second.

'Now open your mouth as big as a bucket, shet your eyes and think of sweetcake,' he said, as all was ready.

She obeyed. Next moment he jumped backwards off the stairs—there was a yell, a gasp—awhoop,and he held the tooth up and cried out:

'Here she is—behold the remains!

She rose up, spat out the blood, cried a little, and then suddenly rushed for the boy and pinned him fast to the wall and kissed him forty-seven times on the chin, twenty-four times on the point of the nose, and eighteen times on the right ear. Then she forced a half-dollar into his paw, grabbed the string and the tooth and skipped out the doorway with the joyful exclamation:

'O! you dear, good, angelic boy! I haven't been so happy for twenty-seven long years!'—Detroit Free Press.

This old and well-tried Remedy has proven its value in all diseases from Impure or Impoverished Blood, as Scrofula, Rheumatism, Ulcerous Sores, White Swellings, Syphilitic Nodes, Bone Diseases, etc. Invaluable in General Debility and diseases of debility of the aged. A rich syrup, containing no injurious ingredients. No other Remedy has received such encomiums. Sold by all Druggists.

DEAFNESS and how I cure it, by one who was for 28 years. A successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, No. 128 East 26th St. New York. 23-4t

PYÆMIA

Is the most virulent form of blood-poisoning. Less speedily fatal, but not less certainly so, is the vitiation of the blood of which the first symptoms are Pimples, Sties, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions. When the taint of Scrofula gives warning of its presence by such indications, no time should be lost in using AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, the only perfect and reliable medicine for the purification of the blood.

SCROFULA

Is a foul corruption in the blood that rots out all the machinery of life. Nothing will eradicate it from the system and prevent its transmission to offspring but AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. This preparation is also the only one that will cleanse the blood of Mercurial poison and the taint of Contagious Diseases. Impoverished blood is productive of

ANÆMIA,

A wretched condition indicated by Pallid Skin, Flaccid Muscles, Shattered Nerves, and Melancholy. Its first symptoms are Weakness, Languor, Loss of Nerve Force, and Mental Dejection. Its course, unchecked, leads inevitably to insanity or death. Women frequently suffer from it. The only medicine that, while purifying the blood, enriches it with new vitality, and invigorates the whole system, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

DOWNS' ELIXIR.

N. H. DOWNS'

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR

For the cure of

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Influenza, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir is used its efficacy is at once manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—At its commencement it is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the Lungs; then an inflamation, when the cough is rather dry, local fever,and the pulse more frequent,the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflamation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

It heals the ulcerated surfaces

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions, free.

Price 35 cts., 50 cts., and $1.00 per bottle.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.
